I am a topside wildlife cameraman and freelance ecologist living and working in Aberdeenshire. I film natural history features, shorts and online content for Mousehole Films and recently co-directed and filmed their documentary feature, The Bough Breaks.

Two of my short films were Highly Commended in the British Wildlife Photography Awards in 2018 and I am currently presenting a new YouTube series The Outside In. I am also a qualified freelance ecologist and regularly work for NatureScot and the James Hutton Institute.
